Beyond the veil of shadows lies a world of infinite
Possibility; to see through the mist of illusion opens
The mind to a realm beyond the boundaries of Ordinary experience; to explore the mysterious
Realms which reside within the eye of imagination
Clears the way for growth of a nature words struggle
To articulate; as the concept of language fails to Convey the intricate details of mystical experience:
The expansive nature of profound change which crashes
Over one much like the crest of an ocean's wave
Removes any doubt from the mind as to the Existence of realms beyond our mortal sight:
How an individual chooses to integrate visions of
A transformative nature, determines the direction
Of the worldly manifestation; as free will remains
A crucial concept which unlocks the doors of perception
Liberating the mind from the material shackles of existence.
